CONSENT FORM FOR INSERTION OF IUD

The IUD is a device inserted into the uterus to prevent pregnancy. Statistically speaking, the device is known to prevent pregnancy in 95%-98% of the time. To achieve maximum efficacy, the IUD should be replaced every 3-5 years, depending on the type of device.

The IUD is inserted without anesthesia and with some discomfort.

Before the IUD insertion, you must provide the doctor with information related to your health, and primarily whether you suffered or are suffering from any diseases that might constitute a contraindication for using an IUD, such as irregular vaginal bleeding, heavy bleeding during menstruation, pelvic infection, ectopic pregnancy in the past or uterine defect. In addition, inform the doctor of the date of the last menstrual cycle.

In addition to the efficacy of the IUD, the following side effects and adverse events are recognized:

- Increased and painful bleeding during menstruation or diminished bleeding in varying degrees until complete cessation of bleeding during menstruation, based on the type of IUD.
- Higher incidence of infections of the genitalia that might result in fertility problems in the future.
- Expulsion of the IUD without feeling /knowing that it has been expelled.
- Pregnancy despite the IUD, which might end in miscarriage due to infection.
- Inability to retrieve the IUD through the string, which requires use of other means to retrieve, even its retrieval under anesthesia.
- Penetration of the IUD into the uterine wall or abdominal cavity. In these cases, surgical intervention might be required. This complication is rare.
- Ectopic pregnancy.

If any of the following symptoms appears, contact the doctor:

- Bleeding that is abnormal in intensity or timing.
- Lower abdominal pain.
- Abnormal vaginal discharge.
- Late menstruation.

I hereby declare that to the best of my knowledge, I am not / the woman is not pregnant.

You must adhere to periodic check-ups in accordance with the doctor's recommendation.
